

Nuno Miguel Silva Soares

WILLPOWER AND HUMILITY TO ALWAYS LEARN MORE

Nuno is reserved and loves learning by trial and error. This is how he believes he can evolve and try different things. Nuno believes that his role is not to be a leader, but rather to be the person in the background, analysing and solving problems.

One of his passions is studying human evolution, as he believes that this is how he can accept and value the person he truly is.

He has a versatile and self-taught career. From an early age, he realised he could become a pharmacy technician as an apprentice. As he progressed, he became the shift manager. He later studied for his degree in Pharmaceutical Sciences taking night classes at the Fernando Pessoa University.

He now works at a pharmacy, and decided to begin his MBA at Porto Business School
